ETHICS at the Movies

Presented by:
JvR Academy &
The Ethics Institute

Join our expert facilitators in the fields of ethics and the behavioural sciences for a five-hour entertainment and learning experience exploring professional and organisational ethics through film.

UNDERSTANDING ETHICS THROUGH FILM

By engaging with a movie, we start to 'live' the experiences of the characters and ask ourselves "what would I do?" if put in their situation. This is part of the fun of engaging with the film medium, and looking more closely at the ethical challenges faced by the characters in the story can be the best experiential method to truly understand how ethics can be applied in organisational settings.

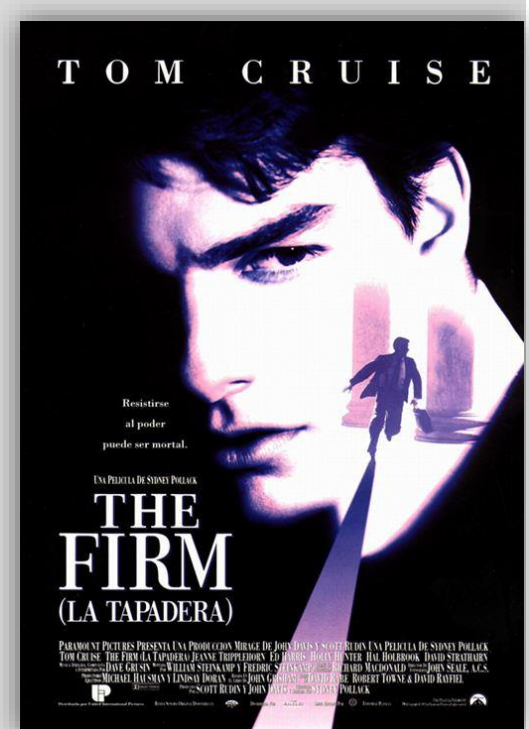
THIS IS FOR EVERYONE

If you are a professional and require continuous professional development (CPD) points for ethics, you can earn five (5) ethics points for attending. However, this is a fun and informative session and a worthwhile experience for everyone, so bring your partner and your CEO and enjoy the show!

NOW SHOWING!

THE FIRM, 1993, starring Tom Cruise and Gene Hackman

A young lawyer joins a small but prestigious law firm, only to find out that most of their clients are on the wrong side of the law. The company is helping to launder mob money, get clients off charges and even murder partners who threaten to blow their cover, but when the FBI come calling to gather evidence on the lawyer's colleagues, he is caught between a rock and a hard place, juggling his life and his liberty.



FACILITATOR: Dr Paul Vorster

Besides being an avid film enthusiast, Paul holds a PhD in Industrial Psychology and is a Senior Research Specialist at The Ethics Institute.
